Nigerian; Sex: Male; Date of Birth: 15th May 1997.

CAREER OBJECTIVE:

Working assiduously in building clean Web Applications with intuitive Designs, cool interactive User Interfaces (UI), awesome User Experience (UX) and dynamic functionalities. I go with the tagline – “User Friendly Designs | Fast and Scalable Development”. I enjoy the process of turning ideas into reality using my creative solutions. I’m always curious about learning new skills, tools, and concepts, especially those ones preferred by my clients and the organizations I work with. In addition to working on various full stack projects, I have worked with creative teams, which involve daily stand-ups and communications, source control, and project management.

OBJECTIVE STATEMENT:

- ❖ To design a ‘User Friendly’ Web and Hybrid application that meets the need of the end user, having with it an awesome user interface that will grant users the needed user experience.

- ❖ To develop a 'fast' and 'scalable' Web Application that has a minimal load speed, and a responsive behavior able both to run on a server and on one's local machine.
- ❖ To create a 'cross platform hybrid application' which is able to run in between devices – Android and IOS – thereby making mobile software development and engineering easier and engaging by creating application that can both run on the Web, on Android devices and on iOS devices, as well as any other integrated device, which will enhance interactivity and make mobile play stores full of fun, and increase the enjoyment users have with their devices.
- ❖ Nurturing and producing a positive and lasting impact in our contemporary world and our virtual world of technology, using my skill-set to deliver excellent job to my clients, and meeting up to deadlines at any given time.
- ❖ To strive for excellence and professional distinction in the execution of my duties, assiduously working out my ways to the actualization of the organizational goals and objectives of any establishment that engage my skill, thereby establishing a progressive organizational growth.
- ❖ To meet the research needs and visions of any Technical (and Training) institution I come across to, by engaging into any research Program with them, using my computer proficiency, technological mastery, engineering skills, Medical And Health Expertise, as well as Leadership and communication fluency to give the best service to any institution that will engage my service, so as to establish and expand the high prestige of that given institution.
